American Studies Program

About the Program

The American Studies program strives to provide world-class graduate training at the M.A. and Ph.D. levels in American Studies for students interested in the interdisciplinary study of American culture. At universities in many nations around the world, American Studies is the rubric of choice for students seeking a broad understanding of American culture. American Studies examines those values and institutional structures that hold Americans together and, at times, divide them into the kinds of factions that the authors of the Federalist Papers so feared when they argued for the ratification of the US Constitution. How America is constituted really is the core subject of American Studies.

With a special focus on the American West, and concentrations in American Arts, American History, American Literature, American Pluralism, and Public Humanities, the program draws on a distinguished cohort of full-time and associated faculty with research and teaching expertise in the disciplines of Anthropology, Architectural History, Art History, English, History, Media and Theater Arts, Native American Studies, Political Science, and Sociology.

The program prepares students for careers in academic research and teaching, business, journalism, cultural resource management, museums, or government service, especially in the U.S. Department of State (primarily its information and cultural services), and agencies like the National Park Service. American Studies has long been one of the primary training grounds for American Foreign Service officers as well as journalists and business leaders who are charged with making sense of the American cultural mosaic for international audiences. Additionally, the program positions graduate students to think and work in a globalized political economy, preparing them for multiple career options where depth and breadth of knowledge about American culture is essential.

Admission Requirements

- Baccalaureate degree in American Studies or closely related field
- Official undergraduate transcripts from all universities attended
- Three letters of recommendation
- Letter of intent that addresses the applicant’s areas of intended study and the applicant’s qualifications for Master’s level work.
- Writing sample

Admissions Deadlines

The Fall admissions deadline to be considered for funding opportunities is January 31st. Applications will be accepted until March 31st.

Department Location & Contact Information

Program Director - Dr. Robert Rydell

319 Leon Johnson Hall

PO Box 170595

Bozeman, Montana 59717

Phone: 406-994-4247

Email: amerstudies@montana.edu

American Studies Graduate Website (https://www.montana.edu/americanstudies/graduate)

Programs

American Studies offers the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy, with a special focus on the American West.

- M.A. in American Studies (http://catalog.montana.edu/graduate/letters-science/american-studies/ma-arts-american-studies)
- Ph.D. in American Studies (http://catalog.montana.edu/graduate/letters-science/american-studies/phd-philosophy-american-studies)

Five-year BA/MA Program

The American Studies program offers a unique opportunity for qualified undergraduate students allowing them to enter the American Studies Master of Arts program after completing three years of undergraduate coursework. To learn more about this program opportunity, please visit the American Studies Undergraduate Graduate Program page (http://catalog.montana.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/american-studies/#graduatetext).
Font Notice
This document should contain certain fonts with restrictive licenses. For this draft, substitutions were made using less legally restrictive fonts. Specifically:

Times was used instead of Adobe Garamond Pro.

The editor may contact Leepfrog for a draft with the correct fonts in place.