Montana State is an active member of the Big Sky Conference where it has the opportunity to participate in the following championships: Football, Men's and Women's Basketball, Women's Volleyball, Men's and Women's Cross Country, Men's and Women's Indoor Track & Field, Men's and Women's Outdoor Track and Field, Men's and Women's Tennis, and Women's Golf. Montana State University is committed to promoting student-athlete well-being, ethical conduct, sportsmanship, equal opportunity, and financial responsibility while striving to be the best in the Big Sky Conference.

Traditionally, MSU hosts some of the largest home crowds within the conference supported by both the student body and the Bozeman and statewide communities and annually finishes near the top of the Big Sky Conference's All Sports Trophy, which acknowledges the best overall athletic program in the Big Sky by measuring athletic and academic success.

In pursuit of athletic excellence, the Montana State Bobcats boast 13 national championship banners and 64 conference accolades hanging from the rafters of the Brick Breeden Fieldhouse. Most recently Big Sky Conference crowns have been won in women's basketball and men's basketball, as well as men's tennis and football. The Bobcat football squad played for the national championship in January 2022. The MSU ski team is nationally renowned and has placed in the top 10 at the last eleven NCAA Skiing Championships, including a program-high fourth place showing in 2016. In addition, the ski team has had two individual national champions as Annika Miller captured the Nordic freestyle title in 2016 and Benedicte Lyche, who won the NCAA Giant Slalom title in 2017. Off the playing field, MSU is traditionally ranked among the Big Sky Conference's best in numbers of academic all-conference selections.

Student-athletes and the entire department are strongly committed to give back to the community. Student-athletes can often be found in the local schools and at community organizations and events promoting local causes.
