Summer Online Courses

Online courses offer a flexible alternative to attending the traditional classroom by delivering a variety of educational resources via the Internet. Whether you’re working a summer job, leaving Bozeman for a few months, or just trying to fit an extra class into your schedule, you can still begin or continue your MSU education by enrolling in one or more online courses.

Please note: The courses listed in the Preliminary Course Listing (http://catalog.montana.edu/summer-bulletin/summer-offerings/preliminary-course-listing) reflect the summer class schedule as of February 2017. Since that time, some courses may have been added and other courses cancelled. For the most current information, please refer to the following websites:

- For Registrar courses: See the 2017 Summer Class Schedule (http://catalog.montana.edu/summer-bulletin/summer-offerings/preliminary-course-listing)
- For Extended University courses: Go to http://eu.montana.edu/

How Do Online Courses Work?

Online courses—also known as distance delivery courses—use a personal computer to connect participants from across the country and around the world via the Internet. Distance courses at MSU are offered on Desire2Learn, an online course delivery tool that allows students and instructors to interact with each other as a learning community on the Web.

Generally speaking, in an online course, you can expect to:

- connect via the Internet with a personal username and password
- participate in a course with set start and end dates (many classes have been developed with a structure similar to traditional on-campus courses with due dates tied to assignments, readings, and other course-related activities)
- proceed through course requirements together with your class, but be able to access the course at a time of day that is convenient to you
- make a time commitment that is about the same as for an on-campus course

Is Online Learning Right for Me?

Learning at a distance requires a different set of resources than traditional face-to-face learning. If you’re thinking about taking an online course but are not quite sure if you’re ready to make the commitment, take the interactive quiz at http://eu.montana.edu/online/quiz to help you decide.

Whether it’s face-to-face or online, a typical three-credit course offered over six weeks requires approximately 20 hours of time per week (in the classroom and outside of class). Such a course is equivalent to a half-time load.

Online instruction provides a level of flexibility that students find attractive. Also, with appropriate effort, the level of student-to-student and student-to-teacher interaction can exceed that of a face-to-face class. However, success in this environment requires a personal commitment and responsibility that is often much greater than that required in a face-to-face class. Before registering for an online course, think carefully about whether or not you have what it takes to be successful.
